The Gay class were a class of twelve fast patrol boats that served with the Royal Navy from the early 1950s. All were named after types of soldiers or military or related figures, prefixed with 'Gay'. The class could be fitted as either motor gun boats or motor torpedo boats, depending on the type of armament they carried.

Today I want to discuss substitutions in baking. I get lots of questions about how to substitute for various ingredients that people can't or don't want to use. I am happy to help when I can, but I wanted to have a little chat about what substitutes can and cannot do. First and foremost: substitutes...Read More »

A question I'm getting a lot in my your comments is, "What do you do with your scraps?". While in the past, my scraps have become anything from pillow stuffing to sunglasses cases (because I have about a bajillion pairs, to other smaller items of clothing like scarves, this year they're going to be used for something totally different.
